HANCOCK OFFICERS DENY CHARGES OF UNJUSTIFIED FINE BY CALIFORNIAN

Appear at Jackson In Answer to Summons—Appear Before State Auditor Carl Craig—No Evidence To Sustain Action Reported By Court Hearing.

Jackson, Miss., May 4.—Two Hancock county officers and a justice of the peace court witness were called before State Auditor Carl Craig Tuesday to answer complaints that motorists entering Hancock county from Louisiana have been arrested and fined without justification for failure to have "permits."

Auditor Craig, charged with enforcement of state laws pertaining to permits for trucks operating interstate, was aroused by a published complaint of James Blackston that he had been legally "hijacked" by Hancock county officers.

Blackston, a traveling representative of a California concern, charged that he had been arrested at Bay St. Louis and fined for not having a permit to enter the state despite his protest that he did not know a permit was necessary.

The justice of the peace who fined Blackston; Alcide Ladner, the arresting officer; Morris Wheat and the witness against Blackston, Pedro Monti, appeared before the auditor today to explain the circumstances.

They denied that Blackston or any other motorist was "hi-jacked" or given an unfair trial.

Wheat and Monti swore to an affidavit that Blackston was driving a light truck, which requires a permit costing $2 for entry into the state.

The state law provides that the driver of a truck must stop at the first county seat in Mississippi and procure the permit.

Wheat and Monti swore in their affidavit that Blackston was stopped and advised of this legal requirement and asked to stop at the courthouse to purchase his permit.

The officer said Blackston, instead of complying, dodged the courthouse, and was attempting to "leave town" when arrested.

Auditor Craig said no action would be taken by the state office. He asserted that he had evidence to prove that Blackston was aware of the new law requiring the driver of a truck to obtain a permit to enter the state. Craig said most states have similar laws.

INTERIOR CITY HALL UNDERGOES THOROUGH JOB OF RENOVATION

Structure Built 1905 Modernized and Presents Appearance Like Entirely New—Dingy Looking and Cracked Walls and Ceilings Covered.

Protecting and conserving public property from the inroads of time, keeping step with the march of improvement is an essential part of the various functions of local government. Maintenance and upkeep are one of the material elements our city fathers are called upon from time to time to administer in addition to the executive branch of government.

Bay St. Louis Board of Mayor and City Commissioners, always moving cautiously and conservatively with a view of maintaining the strictest economy for the tax-payers, as well evidenced during the four years prior to their new term beginning January, 1937, when effect of depression was felt most acutely.

However, the city has been pulled out of the slough of financial depression and its transactions are again on a cash basis. Mayor Blaise, Commissioners W. L. Bourgeois and Commissioner H. Grady Perkins have endeavored and succeeded. Let it be said to their everlasting credit.

City Hall Renovated.
Seeing the light of a new financial dawn, recently, the mayor and commissioners decided to renovate the City Hall, built 1905, to the extent that new wall and ceiling covering as well as floor covering were essential. Not only for appearance sake but to arrest the inexorable toll of time.

Talented Group From New Orleans to Present Benefit, S. S. C. Bus Fund

"Plantation Memories" will be presented in Bay St. Louis at St. Stanislaus College Gym on the evening of Sunday, May 16, benefit bus fund, under auspices of the S. S. C. Mothers' Club. The entire cast is composed of New Orleans ladies who have appeared on the stage from time to time and represent some of the best talent in the big city.

In this wise the production cannot be classed as amateur for it is well known and recognized that a number of the participants are well night professional, their long and active experience on the stage giving them that stamp. It is not often our people are privileged to see such performance because of the inconvenience of traveling to and from the big city. However, this time the big production is coming to Bay St. Louis. Under the direction of Mrs. Paul Jacobs little or nothing else remains to be wished for. Mrs. Jacobs is professional, instructress of voice at New Orleans and her work is heard regularly over the radio.

The faculty and members of the Mothers Club cordially invite all the people of Bay St. Louis and vicinity to attend and have a good evening's fun. It will be a means also of materially increasing the bus fund, which has slowed down in receipts lately.

IMPROVES CEDAR REST CEMETERY

City of Bay St. Louis Builds Low Concrete Wall—Takes Place of Delapidated Iron Fence.

Bay St. Louis city forces have completed building a cement low wall of substantial character along the Second street line of Cedar Rest Cemetery where formerly an iron fence marked the dividing line from side walk.

This solid concrete low wall is quite an improvement over the former old-fashioned iron rail. The damaged top of the iron fence was removed and remaining lower part allowed to remain and serves as a perfect reinforcement, so necessary for concrete work. Extending along the entire front line of the cemetery, the city hopes at some later time to be able to treat the Toulouse street boundary in like manner.

The regular working forces of the city did the work, street department men engaged, and Commissioner H. Grady Perkins, public utilities department, personally supervised the construction from the beginning to the end, giving not only his time but the city the benefit of his knowledge of such work.

Outer surface is yet to receive the final coat of cement, to smooth the rough appearance and to cover in spots where the larger gravel first used shows. Even though not yet receiving the "finishing" touch the wall proves quite an enhancement and means for permanency.

TULANE GLEE CLUB HERE 22ND

Will Present Program at St. Stanislaus Gym, Saturday, May 22—No Strangers.

When the Tulane Glee Club comes to Bay St. Louis, Saturday, May 22nd, at St. Stanislaus gym, it will be more or less a homecoming for many members, as they have either summered at the Bay, or have visited it during one of the unofficial Easter celebrations. For the Glee Club's president, it will be a genuine homecoming, for Bascom Talley, this year's president claims that four of the happiest years of his life were spent at Bay St. Louis, while he was attending and finishing St. Stanislaus College.

The Glee Club's director is the nearest approach to a stranger to the coast—being a native of Michigan—but even he has spent many a delightful hour on the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

Though Maynard Klein has only directed the Glee Club for two years, he has forced it to the front in the ranks of southern choral organizations. The Glee Club is in receipt of an invitation to St. Louis for the 1937-38 season, but the management has not yet decided whether or not the invitation will be accepted. Mr. Klein is considered one of the most capable choral directors in the United States today. Last year, a group under his direction, the Tulane-Newcomb A Cappella Choir, appeared at the Metropolitan Opera House in New York. This year at the mammoth Educators Convention held in New Orleans, Mr. Klein was drafted into service to direct the combined Newcomb and Tulane Glee Clubs, with assisting singers in a vespers service held at the Municipal auditorium. Then only this month, the Glee Clubs of the University again joined forces and sang a Memorial Service in commemoration of Harriet Sophie Newcomb in Dixon Hall.

The complete Glee Club membership is usually between 70 and 80 but in concert, only about half this number appear. The singers appearing in concert are carefully selected by the director and the management of the club for genuine ability—in this way, audiences are assured of a top-notch performance.

TAYLOR WARD SCHOOL HAS SUCCESSFUL AND ACTIVE TERM PERIOD

Resume of High Spots of Class Room, Work and Relaxation—Nature Study Engrosses Attention—School Has Many Loyal Friends.

A visit to the R. W. Taylor city school reveals quite an active atmosphere in the class rooms and from evidences and results there is every manifestation there has been a successful term, now drawing to a close. Teacher and pupils are busy all the time. The school motto is, "First we work and then we play." This is followed every day.

Among the various feature of outstanding work the little "Kindergarten Band" has accomplished splendid work in music this year. Mrs. Edna Saucier has rendered unusually fine service in this branch of work and the principal and pupils are particularly grateful.

Miss Caro Weston, federal project home worker, visits the school regularly every month. She has made nature study talks to the pupils and the result is to the effect good work was accomplished in the making of posters, booklets, painting wild flowers from life, booklets and many other objects under the head of nature study work.

Pupils planted a group of dogwood trees all of which are growing and afford better opportunity to study. Boys in the second grade made attractive bird houses, girls of the third grade fashioned flower baskets and sweet pea all of which are not only beautiful but give evidence of artistry and skill.

Recreation.
There were two enjoyable surprise parties for further recreation and to make school life more attractive. One in March given by Mrs. Kohler, who served ice cream and candies and the children played games and with the grown ups had a good time. The principal and pupils thank Mrs. Kohler for the kind consideration.

At April 23 there was another surprise party on the occasion of Junior Trapani's birthday when Mrs. Trapani came with delicious and beautiful refreshment party caps, etc., and another delightful afternoon followed.

Mrs. Saucier, at the piano, furnished music for the party. The cake carried seven candles. The participants and the school as a whole express thanks to Mrs. Trapani for her thoughtfulness and kindness.

The Taylor School P. T. A. enjoy little entertainments from time to time and an effort is now on foot to replenish the treasury. On May 7 a penny party will be held on the school grounds, with the usual refreshment sale.

There is every reason to feel proud of the activities of the Taylor School, for in the school room we find constant study and result. Mrs. L. D. Stockstill, principal, gives the school and her charge full and undivided time and her success is the biggest reward she seeks. The success of every boy and girl is hers; her desire is to build character, success and to see that her boys and girls are good students—making the most and best of their time and efforts. Going to school is a business, and the time is to be made the best of.

In leaving the school, where we found so much has been accomplished, so much in the doing and where looking to the future is ever in mind, The Echo reporter was handed the following card, with the request to publish, in thanks and appreciation:

"May we again thank all our friends who have helped to make our year's work a success. We mention especially Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Pitcher, who gave our Christmas tree; Mrs. Lillie K. Leonard, who gave the candy at Christmas time; Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Moreau for scribbles direct from the nursery for the front yard; Mrs. Kohler and Mrs. Trapani for their surprise parties, and last but by no means last to our P. T. A. members for their active co-operation in all we have attempted in the way of community work during the school term."

BONTEMPS LEGION POST FOR HANCOCK COUNTY RE-ORGANIZED; ELECTS

Ed. P. Ortte Commander, Leo G. Ford Vice Commander—Recently-Elected Officers to Be Installed Thursday Night of This Week at W. O. W. Hall.

HOSPITAL LINEN SHOWER

For Tuesday, May 11, on Florence Nightingale Day—Public Cordially Invited.

Graduate nurses of Bay St. Louis are arranging to give a linen shower for the benefit of the local hospital on Tuesday, May 11, Florence Nightingale Day, nationally observed.

On that day the hospital will be open to the public throughout the day and will be specially received. Since the hospital has undergone many improvements of late, including the building of an x-ray room and equipped with the latest apparatus, it will be doubly interesting to visit.

Each visitor will be expected to contribute something to the linen shower by either bringing or sending whatever one may wish to give. The hospital management says any and all gifts will be "highly appreciated."

King's Daughters Hospital is located in Carroll avenue, centrally located and easy of access. Mr. and Mrs. Public you are cordially invited to visit. We are proud of our hospital and the splendid work it accomplishes. It serves not only Bay St. Louis but the entire of Hancock county as well and receives patients from away also. It is quite an institution and its usefulness constantly expanding.

agement of the club for genuine ability—in this way, audiences are assured of a top-notch performance.

Great activity was manifested at the meeting last Thursday of the Clem Bon Temps Post of the American Legion of Hancock county. The large assemblage of comrades conveyed over enthusiasm in their determination to go forward with the spirit and ideals of the Legion. Every comrade present pledged himself in support of the good cause.

The Post was re-organized, an entire new set of officers elected. For the first time in the history of the Clem Bon Temps Post of Bay St. Louis, the newly-elected commander was selected from an out of town location. This alone indicates that the good comrades of Bay St. Louis, who were overwhelming at this meeting, are heart and soul in their efforts to see the Post progress and expand.

The new commander, unanimously elected, is Ed. P. Ortte of Clermont Harbor. Comrade Ortte has been a member of this post for several years but due to his traveling position in the past was impossible for him to be very active in his local legion duties. But now that he has given up his pursuit the legionnaires elected him as their leader, believing he will be of great assistance.

Leo G. Ford, the newly appointed post master of Bay St. Louis, was elected to the next highest office, that of 1st vice commander. There is no question that with the experience and good judgment of Comrade Ford, combined with that of comrade Ortte's that the Bay St. Louis post is now on its way to "go places."

Other officers elected were: J. McFee, 2nd vice commander; Chaplain, A. J. Boyles; Finance officer, C. Green; service officer, W. Green; Historian, Henry Capdepon; Sgt.-at-Arms, Charley Bean; Adjutant W. B. Graham.

There will be big time at the Post meeting Thursday night, May 6th, at the annual installation of officers. The ceremonies will be carried out by the Biloxi Post comrades. Refreshments will be served following the installation. The meeting will be held at the W. O. W. Hall, at 8 P. M.

INJURING MISSISSIPPI AND THE TOURIST TRADE.

A MAGAZINE of national reputation and circulation recently carried a communication from an individual residing on the Pacific Coast to the effect he had been allegedly unlawfully arrested while passing thru Bay St. Louis and vicinity and had been mulcted to the tune of some eight dollars and odd cents in fines and costs.

This communication has attracted State-wide attention inasmuch it affects the State since Mississippi laws, it is further alleged, were brought into play when the arrest was effected and the trial that is reported to have followed before a J. P. court.

The Echo is informed the matter is being thoroughly investigated at headquarters in Jackson and it is planned to give an official answer to the charge. And if a racket has existed, as charged, that the guilty will be punished.

We know nothing of the subject since it is not openly nor publicly discussed. If this section has been slandered by the writer of the communication who claims he was the victim of a racket, the matter should be investigated and the wrong righted. If the parties charged are guilty they should be punished accordingly.

The state has taken a hand in the matter, we are informed, and the matter is going to be thoroughly sifted. It is bad advertising and will do the state no end of injury. We invite tourists to travel this way. And they should be welcomed and made to feel they wish to return. We await developments.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT ON COAST.

TO Senator Pat Harrison goes the lion's share of credit for influencing and directing the itinerary that brought President Roosevelt to the Mississippi Gulf Coast last Thursday, April 29, 1937, a memorable day.

There is no one closer to the President at the Nation's Capital than Senator Harrison. Not only chairman of the powerful finance committee he is a close friend to the President and who frequently confers with the distinguished Senator from Mississippi.

Long ago, friends of Senator Harrison said, the President had accepted the suggestion and subsequent invitation to visit the Mississippi Gulf Coast while en route to his fishing destination. It was Senator Harrison who had President Wilson to visit and reside a while on the Mississippi Coast—some twenty years ago. Thus to Senator Harrison goes the lion's share of credit.

The influence of our Senator Pat Harrison carries not only thru the Senate, along with our present Congressman Colmer, but even unto the very threshold of the President's inner circle.

President Roosevelt said at Gulfport he would soon return to the Coast. The hope is expressed this avowed intention is not one to be deferred too far off; that he will return at some immediate future time and stay longer. None who saw the President, even the two thousand at Bay St. Louis who were privileged to get a glimpse of his unforgettable smile and illuminating countenance will ever forget him.

If a human being would be entirely free he would have to live on an isolated island away from all people—and then he would be the slave of his environment.

ONE FAIR AND MANY FAIRS.

THE House of Representatives in Washington recently passed a resolution authorizing a $5,000,000 appropriation for Federal participation in the World's Fair of 1939 to be held in the City of New York.

It is safe to assume that the New York newspapers, despite the interest in a balanced budget and governmental economy, will find nothing objectionable in this appropriation.

The Sea Coast Echo may have some doubts as to the value which the average citizen of the nation will receive from the appropriation but let's resolve them in favor of the proposal and hope that the New York fair will be a great success, of wide benefit to millions of visitors as well as somewhat profitable to its sponsor and to the business men of New York.

We wonder, however, whether the House of Representatives would appropriate as much as $10,000 for Federal exhibitions in five hundred of the leading local fairs of the United States. We warrant that the people of the nation would receive greater information about their government and more benefit through such an appropriation than from the $5,000,000 to be expended in connection with the giant exposition of the metropolis.

We can hardly imagine that the metropolitan press would forget its advocacy of economy and a balanced budget long enough to approve of such an effort to bring the Government into closer contact with many of its citizens who will not be able to see the exhibition in New York.

Fast-moving automobiles fluctuate with the death rate.

Now comes Mr. Jay B. Nash to advocate athletics to inculcate tolerance and preserve democracy. We always suspected that there was a lot to athletics.

OBSERVING MOTHER'S DAY.

A LONG with other memorable dates in each year comes Mother's Day to capture the attention of men and women of Bay St. Louis and to remind them of the debt they owe to their own mothers. To living mothers the day brings, perhaps, some joy and gladness over tangible evidence of children's love and to the memory of those who have passed on is added the respect and admiration of maturer appreciation on the part of their offspring.

It is eminently right and proper that men and women, boys and girls, should take part in the observance of this day set apart to Mothers, living and dead. It is a noble sentiment to inculcate in the hearts of human beings some of whom, somehow, seem to have missed the acquisition of abiding affection based upon complete understanding.

Mother's Day, however, affords men and women an opportunity to develop a broader love of particular mothers when it invites them to attach their reverence to motherhood in general and transfer their solicitude to the welfare of all mothers. If it can accomplish this completely, the role of all mothers will be made easier and the joy of all mothers increased.

Let us honor mothers of all ages but let us also be concerned with the health and welfare of the mothers that are to be. The experience which nature reserves for women brings with it dangers that can be avoided but also, too often, even in this era of civilization, are the cause of suffering and death. The preservation of a mother's life to give her child the love and care it can secure from none other is worth our enterprise and, if our expression of love for mother means anything, it will save some of the women now doomed to become the victims of childbirth.

The saving of a mother's life is an important event to the child, as well as to the mother herself. Society has a deep interest in child welfare because many problems that involve young children and even older boys and girls, are caused by the loss of their mother's care and loving guidance. Two-thirds of the fatalities connected with the coming of children are preventable and should be prevented.

There is more behind Mother's Day than a sentimental affection for one's mother. The facts may not be pleasant and we may wish, sometimes, to let them rest, but sooner or later they will intrude upon the consciousness of men and Mother's Day will take on a fuller meaning with health, life and happiness guaranteed to all women who venture near the valley of the shadow in order for a little child to be born.

OUR CITY EXECUTIVES.

CONSIDERABLE space of The Echo news columns is devoted this week to improvements carried out by the local city council. Improvements that include replacement and spell for economy. City property is like that owned by the individual. If a house falls of occasional painting in order to "preserve the surface," and repairs to impede the progress of deterioration that property soon falls prey to the further and ultimate ravages of time and values that formerly existed.

Too frequently are we prone to condemn; to unthinkingly criticize, failing to give to whom honor is due and thus rob a fellow creature of at least the kind thought. True the laborer is worthy of his hire, but it is not infrequent the laborer does more than his hire. We might not pay him for this in dollars and cents but there must be a medium whereby we may recognize his unusual ability and capacity to do and to that end it may be accomplished by recognition and expression of appreciation. Others might do as well, it may be argued. But many fail.

However, while it is not the intention of The Echo to throw bouquets, for that is not necessary, but we do wish, even though as only a matter of record, to cite the mayor and commissioners for their sense of responsibility thus evidenced by their active manifestation in doing so much—and that in addition to the discharge of the many routine duties that occupy their full time from day to day.

In such competent and progressive hands the city and its affairs are safe and we entertain no apprehension as to the future.

MINIMIZING TRAFFIC DANGER.

PURSUANT to a resolution adopted at a recent meeting of Bay St. Louis Rotary Club, the Mississippi Highway Commission through its chief Engineer Lewis, has recognized the wisdom and promises to follow it out—that of painting a white dividing line along the path of the Bay St. Louis Bi-County Bridge.

Such a letter was received this week by the local club secretary from the Highway Department at Jackson.

The subject was brought to the attention of the Club by Joseph R. Scharff, local merchant, and Rotary member and the suggestion was immediately adopted by the club. We are glad to note action will be taken in the premises by the powers that be.

It is passing strange that such suggestion has never revealed itself to minds whose business it is to ever seek for further safety of the motorist. We have the "white line" on all highways and it serves to advantage. The "line" across the bridge path cannot be created any too early and the hope is expressed it will long be in existence before the heavy summer traffic sets in.

NEWSPRINT FROM PINE TREES.

SCIENTISTS have reported that a good grade of newsprint paper can be produced from pine trees that grow rapidly in the South and newspaper publishers of the United States, anxious about advancing prices, look hopefully to a new source of supply for this vital product.

For many years most of the newsprint used in the United States has come from foreign nations and Americans are hopeful that the development of a new industry will break alien control of paper. Besides, there is the hope that the new market for pine trees will aid the economy of certain Southern States which are, it is feared, gradually losing a fight to grow cotton profitably for vanished foreign markets.

A world able to spend a million and a half dollars on new battleships ought to be able to spend some money in the interests of establishing international good will.

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING OF MEN AND MATTERS IN EDITORIAL EXPRESSION

OIL IN MISSISSIPPI SOUND.

(Biloxi News)

THE exploitation of the waters of the Mississippi Sound for mineral deposits seems a little doubtful at this time as steps are being taken in Congress to pass a bill which would make such bottoms and deposits the property of the United States government and reserved for the use of the Navy Department. These bottoms would, if the bill introduced by Senator Nye, of North Dakota, is passed, be subject to the same control and limitations as is provided for other naval petroleum reserves.

The bill further would limit the States' territorial rights to three miles from shore. However, it would not effect lands lying beyond the three-mile limit.

At the present, a large corporation is waiting a reply to its application placed with the State Mineral Leasing Commission for the rights to exploit the waters of the sound in search of oil, salt and sulphur and other minerals. There have been some who have not favored the leasing of these bottoms for this purpose, because it might endanger the fishing interests and resort industry. Others have endorsed the industry and recommend that the mineral commission grant the privileges of exploitation because of the possibility of increasing the State's industries.

Governor White will soon conduct a thorough investigation into the matter. He will base his final opinion on the results of his findings. It is certain that he will do nothing which would damage the present interests in a gamble for new industries.

COST OF CARELESSNESS.

(Times Leader)

THE carelessness of a clerk recently cost the Texas Oil company $20,000. This particular clerk was charged with the duty of mailing a check to the State Tax Commission for $80,000 in gasoline taxes collected during the previous month. Under the law this money must be in the hands of the State officials by the fifteenth of the month, else a 25 per cent penalty must be imposed. The careless clerk failed to put a stamp on the letter and it came back. The company appealed to the State Supreme court, but the court upheld the law. It is sometimes costly to be careless.

MIGHTY PROUD OF PAT.

(West Point Leader)

IN HIS BRIEF address at Biloxi, the President recalled that when he visited that city twenty-five years ago he was met by a "very young Congressman." That "young Congressman," like the President, has grown up. He is now Senator Pat Harrison, chairman of the powerful finance committee, and Mr. Roosevelt's right-hand man. Mississippi is mighty proud of Pat Harrison.

his final opinion on the results of his findings. It is certain that he will do nothing which would damage the present interests in a gamble for new industries.

METHODISM CALLS EVERY METHODIST TO ANSWER 1937 GOLDEN CROSS ENROLLMENT.

May 9-16 Dedicated Time For Vast Program of Work—Twelve Hospitals To Be Aided—Under Auspices Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

"When he had called unto him his twelve disciples, he gave them power against unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of sickness and all manner of disease." (Matt. 10:1.) "These twelve Jesus sent forth, and commanded them saying: . . . Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils; freely ye have received, freely give." (Matt. 10:5-7.)

Mrs. F. J. Nelson, is director Golden Cross for the Bay St. Louis church. The following is the call for the annual "Golden Cross Enrollment," and the period for the enrollment will cover from next Sunday, May 9, to Sunday, May 16.

James, in his intensely human letter to the early Church, reveals that the welfare of the sick is an obligation of those in Christian fellowship. "The elders of the church" (James 5:15) are to pray with the sick.

Today with all the modern facilities for caring for the sick, for relieving even the distress and suffering of incurable diseases, "the elders of the church" and those in Christian fellowship can do more than pray. They can do much more than visit at the bedside of the sick. There are twelve hospitals supported wholly or in part by the membership of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Our hospital program includes hospitalization for the poor, segregation, and care for incurables, helpful clinical services for the needy. This program's financial support comes from the annual "Golden Cross Enrollment," as provided for by the "Discipline."

Vast Ringling Collection Of Art Given to State Of Florida For Keeping

The vast art collection John Ringling amassed with his circus fortune over a period of twenty years will go to the state of Florida if the Legislature enacts a bill endorsed 13 to 3 by a House committee.

The collection, now housed in the John and Mabel Ringling Museum at Sarasota, is estimated to be worth $13,000,000 to $15,000,000. The nearby Ringling residence, also willed to the state, is valued at $3,000,000.

A visit to the gallery of old and rare paintings collected during the life time of Mrs. Ringling, accompanied by her husband, during their various trips to Europe, is one of the largest and finest collections in the world.

The building occupied cost a million and more, situated well on the outskirts of Sarasota. An admission of twenty-five cents is charged. A guide spends hours with the visitor, going from section to section of the famous collection. Florida's acceptance will enrich that State and its people, posterity as well, benefits not to measure in dollars, even though representing many millions.

FREE RIDES.

Visitors to Washington are always interested in the subway system operating between the Capitol and the Senate office building. While the senators have the right to call a car by ringing a bell, they enjoy no exclusive privilege and often sit side by side with executives, pages, messenger boys and tourists as the cars clang along at fifteen to twenty miles an hour. All comers are entitled to a free ride; there are no reserved seats. Incidentally, the house members have no such connection with their office buildings, but considerable thought is being given to setting up a transportation system, which is expected to cost about $60,000.

CANDY.

Three hundred and eight candy manufacturers, representing seventy per cent of the industry, sold 131,000,000 pounds of higher priced candies during 1936. Average manufacturer's invoice value of plain packaged candies was 19.4 cents per pound. For fancy packaged goods, the price was 67.4 cents.

Oyster Season For Mississippi Sound Is Brought to Close

The Mississippi oyster fishing season was brought to a close this week and the reefs will be closed to dredging until next winter season. The Mississippi Seafood Commission made an inspection of the reefs last week and found them to be in fine condition.

The season was one of the best the fishermen have had in years. The catches were fine and the oysters will soon be planted by the commission as part of its propagation program. Excellent results of the huge program put on last year in connection with the WPA projects are noticeable.

WAVES

Roll on along the bay,
Waves fresh and sweet;
You come from far away,
Where thunders beat.

But where you splash in play,
Like children clear;
You croon throughout the day,
Love lays we hear.

And through the stilly night,
You lap the shore;
Kist by the moonlight bright,
Loved evermore.

Roll on, forever roll,
In endless race;
The winds with you play toll,
Slapping your face.

GRETA GARBO AND ROBERT TAYLOR TRIUMPH IN 'CAMILLE'

World-Famous Alexandre Dumas Love Story Transferred to the Screen With Beauty and Tenderness

If anyone can witness the love scenes between the impossibly glamorous Garbo and the dynamic and handsome Robert Taylor in "Camille" at the A. & G. Theater, Sunday and Monday, without considerable palpitation of the heart, he must be a callous observer indeed.

For even beyond its magnificent production details, its strikingly beautiful settings, costumes and scenic backgrounds—even beyond the superb direction of George Cukor and the flawless acting of its stellar group of supporting players—"Camille" stands out as the most poignant and stirring portrayal of the love of a beautiful and fascinating woman for the man of her heart that the magic of the screen has ever given its followers.

There is only one actress who could follow in the footsteps of such immortals of the stage as Bernhardt, Duse and Modjeska in playing the role of the "Lady of the Camellias" who gave up wealth and social position in exchange for the man who could offer her little except his ardent devotion. That actress is Garbo.

Of all the glamorous roles that are so inextricably associated with the famous Swedish star none has ever attained the heights of her Marguerite in "Camille." She gives it life and emotional intensity. She sings, dances, laughs, even plays the piano! And as for the nuances between laughter and tears that this difficult role demands—well, it can only be repeated that only the incomparable Garbo could have essayed the role. It is without a doubt her outstanding triumph.

Robert Taylor as Armand, the lover, likewise gives a performance that definitely places him high among the really distinguished actors of the screen.

Bay St. Louis, and the Board having considered the said petition and being of the opinion that the same should be rejected, it is, therefore ordered that the petition of Midland Realty Company for a reduction in assessment on the above described property, be and the same is hereby rejected.

BENEFITS HANCOCK FARMERS

Ninety-Eight Received Payments Totaling $1,617.30 Federal Soil Conserving Project.

County Agent J. A. Bozeman announced today that soil conserving and soil building payments totaling $1,617.30 had been made to 98 farmers of Hancock county under the 1936 agricultural conservation program. The payments show how extensively the farmers of the county have participated in the Government's program as well as the far-reaching effort of the Federal government to assist them in adjusting crop production to actual needs and in conserving the fertility of their soils in the interest of the national welfare.

Payments under last year's program have been practically completed, County Agent J. A. Bozeman said. He revealed that during the past four years the farmers of Hancock county have received the impressive sum of $2,786.06 for carrying out a better balanced system of farming and saving soil fertility. Cooperating farmers, the county agent pointed out, have planted a larger acreage to soil conserving and soil improving crops, they have produced more of the food and feed needed on the farm, they have received a higher price for the cotton and cotton seed they produced for sale and they have made more money and enjoyed a better living.

What the program has meant to the state is revealed in a summary report from T. M. Patterson, administrative officer in charge, AAA, Jackson. He said payments totaling $10,348,698 had been made to 255,415 producers in Mississippi under the 1936 program through Monday. Since the AAA program was started

ANCIENT GUN AT SHIP ISLAND BREAKS 72-YEAR SILENCE

Fired Last Week on Occasion of President Roosevelt's Visit to Coast.

The boom from a historic old cannon atop Fort Massachusetts on Ship Island, silent for the past 72 years, was plainly audible along Mississippi Coast as State Commander Charlie Sims of the American Legion fired a salute to President Roosevelt.

The salute was fired as the nation's chief executive motored along the Mississippi Beach Boulevard. On a flare signal from the mainland the old cannon sent forth a charge of black powder that threw up a smoke screen which had the day been clear would have been visible to President Roosevelt and thousands who lined the boulevard to greet the president.

Plans for firing the cannon from the old fort, designed by Jefferson while he was secretary of war and later constructed during the administration of President Abraham Lincoln, were made by officials of the American Legion, which owns Ship Island.

The fort is being developed into a national park and recreational center by the state legion.

INTERIOR OF CITY HALL UNDERGOES THOROUGH RENOVATION

thony Thiery and Henry Cuneo, two of the older and better known workmen in their line, and which is well evidenced by results.

Jack Hale, Willie E. Saucier, veteran painters, Maurice Johnston, also well known, and Earl Nettie did the paint work. Hale and Saucier doing the inside job principally with Johnston while Nettie and Johnston did the outside front of the city hall.

George F. Stevenson, local electrician, did the electrical work. For it must be remembered the wiring was new and safe rules and regulations necessary. The old drop lights were removed and concealed inverted lighting employed. Fixtures are modest and chaste, inexpensive, yet represent the most modern aspect and add to the glory of the tints of cream and pink, the color combination of walls and ceiling.

Material Furnished.

Quite a good deal of material was necessary. This was supplied from firms at home, including W. A. McDonald & Son, Magnolia State Supply Company and C. C. McDonald, dealers in building material. It is reported that the best of material was supplied at the lowest market prices, that delivery was prompt and in every way dealing with local firms was most satisfactory.

Public Invited.

While no invitation to the public is necessary, the public is asked to visit the city hall and see the beauty and practicability of the work. The city fathers have accomplished a splendid job and they are entitled to that satisfaction born of a visit and the deserving, "Well done, faithful servant."

The work well speaks for itself. It was quite necessary and the old city hall interior is good for quite a long time to come. Our visitors from out of town will be pleased when they call to transact business they may have with the city or, even on informal call. The dignity of the city is well sustained by this noted and outstanding improvement.

WITH THE FISHERMEN.

By Cantcha Ketchum.

DUE to the high wind and rain storm of last Friday night little fishing was done over the week end. There has been practically a storm tide since then. However, for the past couple of days conditions have improved greatly. Those who went out had little luck.

Speckles were striking Tuesday afternoon near the highway bridge and a few were caught. Nothing to brag about.

Soft shell crabbing has been taboo also. High tide also ruins crabbing and besides the water has been somewhat muddy again.

Fred Banderet has not been doing much fishing of late, but keeps a pretty good tab on what goes on around Joe's Bayou. Fred says that some green trout were caught the early part of the week in that section.

Warren Larroux made a nice catch of green trout and perch Sunday in Choctaw Bayou, better known as Edwards Bayou. Warren uses the fly rod to effect.

Bob Genin made another good haul of green trout and goggle-eye perch Wednesday afternoon at the gravel pit near Gainesville. Bob knows how and where to get them. He says you must keep your bait in the water at all times and fish hard if you expect to have any success. The largest trout weighed exactly 3 pounds. This was verified by Maurice.

After Sidney Manieri reported catching nine large speckles from the highway bridge Tuesday afternoon a traffic cop was needed on the bridge Wednesday afternoon to handle the crowd. However very few were caught that evening.

George Stahler of New Orleans and Alden Mauffray enjoyed a trip around Edwards and Watts Bayous Tuesday afternoon. They report fishing conditions improving. Only nine were caught.

Speaking of flounders, a 6 pounder was caught one night this week by Jordan Bush, a commercial and ex-
